About Portland State University

Portland State University (PSU) is an urban university and Oregon's largest - located in the heart of the vibrant city of Portland. PSU educates over 27,000 students and offers programs for Bachelor's, Master's, and Doctoral degrees. PSU is an internationally recognized urban university known for excellence in student learning, innovative research, and community engagement. PSU contributes to the economic vitality, environmental sustainability, and quality of life in the Portland region and beyond. Employees describe Portland State University as a vibrant, diverse, progressive place to work and an environment that welcomes process improvement and innovation. Portland State's 50-acre downtown campus is located in the heart of one of America's most vibrant centers of culture, business, and technology. See www.pdx.edu.

Facilities and Property Management (FPM) serves all members of the Portland State University (PSU) community. FPM takes a tremendous amount of pride providing an appealing campus environment in a professional and friendly fashion. The facilities and grounds at PSU consist of over 5 million square feet of facilities and approximately 50 acres of grounds and are the university's largest asset. FPM is charged with the stewardship of this asset which contributes to attracting and retaining students, faculty, and staff.

The department staff works together as a dedicated team to create and maintain a superior and vibrant urban campus learning environment.

The Position

The Housing Maintenance team at Portland State University is responsible for the maintenance and operation of nine residential buildings on campus. The Housing Trades/Maintenance Worker 2 performs semi-skilled work assisting journey level trades people in the maintenance and repair of campus residential buildings and supports other FPM maintenance crews as required.

This position primarily works independently and prioritizes and completes tasks with minimal supervision.
