

UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

POSITION PROFILE

Chair, Department of Accounting and Finance
University of Wyoming
September 2018

THE INSTITUTION

Nestled amid the beauty of two mountain ranges in southeastern Wyoming, you will find the nationally recognized major teaching and research institution, University of Wyoming (UW). Established as a land-grant institution in 1886 when Wyoming was still a territory, UW has since grown to offer more than 200 areas of study, drawing 12,000 students from all 50 states and 90 countries. UW is known for its accomplished faculty and world-class facilities, its small student/faculty ratio and quality undergraduate and graduate programs within its colleges of Arts & Sciences, Agriculture & Natural Resources, Business, Education, Engineering & Applied Science, Health Sciences, Law, School of Energy Resources, and Haub School of Environment and Natural Resources.

Throughout its existence, UW has been the only four-year university in the state of Wyoming, though it maintains close relationships with the state's seven community colleges. UW's global impact begins with innovative undergraduate and graduate research opportunities and extends through state and federal partnerships and recent initiatives such as the School of Energy Resources and the NCAR-Wyoming Supercomputing Center. UW has played important roles in the lives of students, Wyoming residents, and communities for 131 years. You can see why UW is setting the gold standard!

- UW was ranked among the nation's top colleges and universities by US News & World Report, Forbes, and Princeton Review in 2010.
- UW has the largest single scholarship endowment for study abroad support in the U.S.
- UW's Honors Program has been named as one of the best among public universities.
- Outside Magazine has recognized UW as one of the "top adventure colleges."

low cost of living, low property taxes, and no personal state income tax. The area offers incredible outdoor recreational opportunities, an eclectic downtown area, and a great public school system.

CHAIR, DEPARTMENT OF ACCOUNTING AND FINANCE

UW's AACSB accredited College of Business is seeking a collaborative and forward-thinking Chair, Department of Accounting and Finance. UW's Accounting and Finance programs were merged into a single department in January 2017. The combined department offers undergraduate and Master's degrees in Accounting and Finance as well as courses in the MBA program. The Accounting and Finance programs both have a long tradition of serving their respective professions, the academic community, and the state of Wyoming. The Department has 13 full-time tenure-track faculty and serves over 400 undergraduate and approximately 30 graduate students; continued growth in both faculty and student enrollment is planned.

The Department's mission statement reads as follows:

The Department's mission is to deliver excellent education to undergraduate students, masters' students, and professionals; produce basic, applied, and pedagogical scholarship providing thought leadership for academic and professional audiences; and provide outreach to promote economic development. The Department conducts its activities with honesty and integrity at all times.

This mission supports the mission of the University, which is:

We honor our heritage as the state's flagship and land-grant university by providing an accessible and affordable higher education of the highest quality; rigorous scholarship; the communication and application of knowledge; economic and community development; and responsible stewardship of our cultural, historical, and natural resources.

The Department occupies a floor in the state-of-the-art LEED certified College of Business building, which was completed in 2010. The building features classroom spaces that accommodate a variety of teaching and learning methods. The building also features a trading room, behavioral and multimedia laboratories, an executive boardroom, conference and seminar rooms and an auditorium. College of Business students benefit from the latest wired and wireless technologies, including high-definition multimedia playback and projection systems in each classroom, a video production and editing facility, video conferencing capabilities, financial data feeds and a stock ticker in the atrium.

THE OPPORTUNITY

The Chair is charged with leading the unified Department and has overall responsibility for Departmental strategy formation and implementation, academic program quality and enhancement, maintenance of accreditation, faculty recruitment and development, and fiscal management/budgeting. The Chair serves as an advisor to the Dean and develops strategies to promote partnerships with other academic units on campus as well as external stakeholders such as employers, the College of Business Advisory board, professional accounting and finance associations, and the State of Wyoming. The Chair is also responsible for growing and expanding academic programs to include online degree and professional education (certificate programs and continuing professional education). This is an 11-month position with a faculty appointment. The Chair is expected to spend at least 60% of their efforts on administration and leadership duties, with the remaining 40% devoted to teaching and research. The Chair is expected to maintain and grow relationships with the professional accounting and finance communities across the state and the surrounding region as well with the regional community at large.

Direct reports include the Accounting and Finance faculty and two administrative assistants.

The ideal candidate for The Chair will have the leadership, communication, and motivational skills to foster an entrepreneurial environment in the Department and the College of Business, and in collaboration with other academic units as the University of Wyoming implements a new strategy to become a major participant in developing Wyoming's economy and workforce, meeting the challenges of globalization and economic diversification. Demonstrated experience in outreach to representatives of the business community and other external stakeholders is a definite plus.

Required Qualifications:

- An earned doctorate in accounting, finance, or a closely related field from an AACSB-accredited institution.
- Demonstrated excellence in teaching, scholarship, and service at a level that qualifies for appointment at the rank of experienced Associate Professor (or Full Professor).
- Demonstrated communication and interpersonal skills to foster effective interaction with a diverse set of stakeholder groups, including students, faculty, staff, alumni, and the professional community.
- Experience in creating and sustaining a culture of inclusion, openness, and cooperation.
- Demonstrated skills in problem-solving, relationship building, and collaborative leadership.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Professional experience with U.S. financial markets in accounting or finance is preferred.
- Relevant professional certification.
- Experience in academic leadership that demonstrates skills in problem-solving, external relations, and performance evaluation.

Why Consider the Opportunity?

- Resources. UW is a well-resourced institution with state of the art facilities and a beautiful, well-maintained campus. The College of Business endowment is the largest on campus at just over $67 million. The endowment generates over $900,000 per year in discretionary income for use by the Dean to achieve the vision, goals, and objectives of the College.
- Influence. The Chair is a highly influential role that provides the opportunity to strengthen and shape the future of the Accounting and Finance programs now and in the future as Wyoming grows and diversifies its economy.
- Environment. Warm, collegial, supportive people and work environment.
- Leadership. Dr. Laurie Nichols joined UW as President in May 2016. In August 2018, Dr. David Sprott began his role as the new Dean of the College of Business; the College is enthusiastic about its new leadership.
- Compensation: Highly competitive salary and solid benefits package including a retirement benefit that features a state contribution of 14.565% of an employee's gross salary.

LARAMIE, WYOMING

Living in Laramie, WY can be like being on a year-round vacation - whether you're looking for great food, historic walking tours or outdoor adventure. The name "Laramie, Wyoming" conjures up visions of the Old West like few others can, with cattle drives, a historic downtown, prairie and mountain vistas, rodeos, guest ranches and more. Laramie is filled with hospitality, entertainment, and excitement while providing a neighborly atmosphere and warm small town feel with a multitude of amenities and entertainment.

Interesting Facts:

- Also known as the "Gem City of the Plains", Laramie is located in the Southeastern part of Wyoming approximately 45 miles from the state capital, Cheyenne, and 130 miles from Denver, Colorado and is the county seat of Albany County.
- Laramie sits at 7,200 feet above sea level in the plains surrounded by the Medicine Bow National Forest, Vedauwoo, and the Snowy Mountain Range.
- Laramie has a 6% sales tax, but does not have corporate state income tax, personal state income tax, state inheritance tax, or manufacturing tax or equipment sales tax. It also has a low property tax, worker's compensation rates, and operating costs.
- The unemployment rate in Laramie is 2.50 % (U.S. avg. is 6.30%).
- Laramie offers a variety of outdoor adventures with over 250 days of sunshine.
- The quality of life and amenities Laramie has to offer brings several types of industries to Laramie including cattle ranches, technology companies, and academia.

Less than 20 minutes East of Laramie, the Vedauwoo Recreation Area boasts some of the best rock-climbing in the country. You can photograph abundant wild-life, dramatic alpine scenes, and jumbled rock formations. And with over a hundred mountain biking trails, the area around Laramie is a paradise for exploration on two wheels. If you prefer the solitude of an alpine lake or a simple walk close to town, the hiking trails around Laramie offer something for everyone. Families will find fun and exploration close to town, while backpackers can spend a week in the high country of the Medicine Bow Mountains. And in the winter, as a snow enthusiast, you can escape the crowds by exploring the forested glens and rolling meadows of the Snowy Range from the back of a snowmobile or downhill skiing. Laramie is Wyoming's favorite playground!
